As funeral directors offering different services Meagan and then Leonie will be sharing their experiences and stories. So if you want to take a look behind a couple of curtains this is your opportunity to ask a funeral director why things are done, how they do all things funeralising and just what is and isn't possible.

Meagan and Leonie will each speak about what they do for 15- minutes and then the floor will be open for 15 minutes of questions.

Join the AIFP President, Carly Dalton as she hosts this session which promises to be informative... You might even hear them talk a little about the challenges of funerals in the time of Covid-19.
